Derwentwater. Derwentwater, or, as it was anciently known, Skewick Lake, is one of the most visited spots in the Lake District. It is three miles long and a mile and a half wide. Derwentwater enjoys a very high reputation for beauty and charm. Its waters are embosomed amidst low rocky hills, interspersed with wooded valleys and fertile pastures. Among the well-known heights which border the lake are Skiddaw (1,612 feet), Catbells, Causey Pike, and Saddleback.
